The London Times of the 5th, is an article on the Kazaris war, ridicules the restieus, migratory character of our people, and shows that the troubies in that region are but the results of the efforts of party leaders to convert their unquiet habits into a political weapon. It says that the immigrative spirit in the population is appealed to on all party issues, and used exactly as a military commander would use the peculiar bodily gitts of a population. Intelligence from Buenos Ayres to the 2d ult. states that matters were very unsatisfactory, and a civil war was expected. In the province of Santa Fe a revolution had commenced, headed by Juan P. Lopez, who deposed Gov. Culien and assumed the reins of government himself—a change which was much approved.

A correspondent of the London Times, writing from Buenos Ayres on the 2d of August, says:—
Our relations with the confederate provinces are once more out of Joint; and, judging from present appearances, threaten serious complications. The sanction of the differential duties was sufficiently significant; the revolution of Santa Fe is "confirmation strong as holy writ." The re-incorporation of Boenos Ayres with the confederation must be effected; at least, so means will be left-untried to accomplish that object, and the probable consequences another bloody and desoluting civil war.

An extremely unsettled state of the money market at Buenos ayres during the month had a depressing effect, especially upon the local markets. Arrivals had been moderate, and but few cargoes were required. In arti-cles of daily consumption the arrivals were frequent and heavy, but, nevertheless, extremely high prices prevail-ed. Sugar had made a considerable advance in price. Flour, on the contrary, had 'allen from 13 to about 10% patacones.

The weather has been all that could be desired for the crops since our report of Friday, and great progress has been made both in cutting and housing. The trade has been made both in cutting and housing. The trade has ruled exceedingly doil, and progress in sales of other wheat, fibur, or Indian corn with great difficulty made. Our arrivals for the week are heavy of wheat and flour from the United States, the greater portion of which is of inferior quality and out of condition.

Our market this merning was rather better attended than on I riday; infliers and dealers were more disposed than on I riday; infliers and dealers were more disposed than on I riday; unitiers and dealers were more disposed than on I riday; unitiers and dealers for more qualities also met rather more inquiry than of late, prices of which, however, were rather irregular. Flour sold showly at nearly the raies of our last for prime qualities, but inferior were difficult to quit.

The demand for Indian corn was less than for some time past, and although offered at a reduction of 1s. a is. 6d. per quarter on yellow and mixed descriptions, it did not induce purchasers to come forward; white did not yield more than 6d. per quarter, but the demand was only limited.

PASHION COURSE, L. I.—FALL MELTING—SECOND DAY.

The racing yesterday was a little better than on the day before, yet far from being good. There were the race.—two mile heats, and mile heats, beat three in five. In the first race, Mr. Gibbons' Julia and Cue-Ryed Joe were the centestants, and in the other race there were three entries, viz:—Nicholms I., Charley King, and Wathington. Julia wen the first race very casy, while Nicholms I. took the second race without an effort. The horse Washington was about an equal to the Consternation sing in the four mile cash of the previous day. To-day, however, we may expect something good, as Ellen Bateman and Julia race entered for the three mile race. Ellen Bateman is, well known as a racer of lasting qualities,

Bateman is, well known as a racer of leating qualities, having me ade the best three mile race ever run in the North all yout two years ago, beating Col. Grayson over the Ne' Jonal Course. This will be a betting race, and we would advice all persons fond or racing to witness this affair.

7. he following are the particulars of what took place

First Heal.—One Eyed Joe was the favorite. At the tap of the drom, Julia went off with the lead, and an moderate running kept in front all the way to the end, making the first mile in 2,00, and the second in 1.26. The heat was done in 4.01.

Second Heat.—Joe lood of for half a mile, and then fell behind—time, 1.01. Julia was four or five lengths ahead at the accre, in 1.55. She opened the gap the next half mile, and then came home on a center, making the last mile in 1.57. She is a good runner, and it will take a task one to beat her two or three miles. The time of the heat was 3.55.
